STOLE FOR HER CHILDREN'S SAKE.

Mrs. Ann Riley yesterday afternoon made a trip to the basement of her residence, No. 315 East 125th street. As she descended the kitchen stairs she saw strange woman figuring around the refrigerator. "Well?" inquired the lady.

"My children are starving," answered the woman, who had a beefsteak under her arm.

Roundsman McKenna was called in, and the oman, who was wretchedly clad, was taken before

Justice Wandell in the Harlem Police Court. She gave her name as Bridget Beam, of Third avenue and 129th street.

Said Justice Wandell to the prisoner:—"Bridget, I could send you to the Special Sessions for trial, but I feel sorry for you, and am going to impose a light penaity. I sentence you to three months in the workhouse."
